EARLY-TERMINATION FEE

Home loan not paid up as yet? If you intend selling your home or want to cancel your home loan for any other reason, please ensure that you provide us with 90 days' notice of your intention to cancel your bond.

- The early-termination fee (often referred to as '90-day notice') is prescribed by the National Credit Act and makes provision for a bank to charge a fee if a client cancels the home loan before the agreed loan term.
- The early-termination fee is determined as three months' interest (based on your outstanding balance, interest rate and remaining loan term).
- If the bond is cancelled before the 90-day period, the pro rata amount will be charged for the remaining days.
- If the bond is cancelled after 90 days, no early-termination fee will be charged.
- The notice will be valid for a period of one year, following which you will be required to give notice again should your home loan, for whatever reason, not be cancelled within that year.
